DIVISION 8 PRODUCTS & SERVICES

National Service - Chain-Wide Consistency

- National Supply & Support
- Specification Consulting
- Nationwide 24/7 Service
- Warranty Management
- Key System Management

LockNet offers a comprehensive national program for supplying doors, frames, and door hardware to major national chain stores and their contractors. We specialize in working with retail chain stores and with the contractors who build chain stores. LockNet is committed to making your projects successful. We earn repeat business by providing quality products, outstanding service, and true cost saving solutions. There are dozens of door and hardware suppliers trying to achieve a quick profit -- they get in, get out, get paid, and they're gone. LockNet strives to be different. We want to be your partner for the long-term. We stand by our products and services and work hard to gain your trust and establish a relationship that keeps you coming back for more.

Service -- a complex word that means many different things to many different individuals. LockNet believes in continuing service -- both before and after the sale. We operate a 24/7 service center and maintain a network of over 2,500 skilled technicians throughout the U.S. and Canada. We do this because we recognize that our customers -- national retail chains -- also operate their businesses 24/7 and quality service demands that we do the same. Additionally, our team of Architectural Hardware Consultants are there to advise you and help you make the best possible decisions when specifying your door and hardware needs.

Our Job is to Make Your Job Easier

Open a Fresh New Alternative

For Specifying and Procuring Doors, Frames, and Hardware

- Specifications Consulting

When you use LockNet for your Division 8 needs, we will assign an AHC to carefully review the prints, schedules, and specifications. Not only is our goal to help ensure your requirements will be satisfied, we also continually look for ways to reduce costs. This includes looking for ways to reduce long-term repair and maintenance expenses of the doors and hardware used.

- National Buying & Pricing Programs

Many retail chains, especially small-box retailers, have been unable to obtain the buying power needed to realize significant cost reduction in their door and hardware purchases – and the same frequently holds true for their contractors. As a national supplier, LockNet will get you the best possible price for each of your projects.

- Consistency of Specifications

LockNet will review site specifications and help ensure national consistency. LockNet recognizes that it's not enough to satisfy the retail organization's construction team – we must also address the concerns and needs of the operations, loss prevention, and facilities maintenance organizations. We work hard to address the challenges that face all constituencies of a national retail chain.

- Key System Design and Management

Ask anyone – one of the major hassles of running any facility is managing and maintaining its key systems. And it becomes even more complex in a national chain store environment. LockNet's sophisticated data processing capabilities turn this overwhelming burden into a manageable chore.

- Warranty Management

Long-term manufacturer warranties are becoming commonplace with door hardware – but taking advantage of these warranties is a daunting task for national retailers. LockNet solves this problem by carefully recording every item we furnish into our databases. This information is made instantly available to LockNet's award-winning 24/7 service team so that needless replacement of items covered under a manufacturer's warranty becomes a thing of the past.

Consistent, On-Time Delivery

Hassles are simply not an option. That's why LockNet works so hard to deliver your products where you want them, when you want them. And when things do go awry, our communication is top notch. We never stop working for you.

State-of-the-Art Internet Reporting

Sophisticated services demand sophisticated data processing. LockNet has invested heavily in the computer and software tools we feel are necessary to provide you the long-term service you deserve. You can review the status of your orders and the progress of service requests via LockNet's secure web site. The reporting tools available to you are extensive; allowing you to not only review one project, but to analyze your costs and repair history by location or by region. Each item we deliver to one of your locations is recorded in LockNet's databases. And in the unfortunate event that repairs become necessary, LockNet's service department has immediate access to this information so that there's never any question about which replacement parts are needed.

Toilet Partitions and Restroom Accessories

LockNet can also assist with your new construction needs for public washroom equipment and accessories. A notoriously abusive environment, we understand that washrooms demand the highest quality accessories while remaining affordable. And we still maintain after-the-sale service -- we even furnish replacement parts for those pesky soap bottles and other items that frequently end up missing or damaged.

LockNet is a leading single source provider of doors, door hardware, locking systems, keying systems, and other related security and locksmithing services. LockNet can provide a customized program to fit your needs offering a single point of contact for New Construction, Facilities Maintenance and Loss Prevention. Throughout the US and Canada, LockNet's network of service and installation professionals assures you of high quality services and timely response. Our web-based information management system provides current status of all of your projects and service requests. All of this, combined with our 24/7 toll free technical support and service request hotline, makes LockNet your solution provider of choice. Call LockNet today.
